Art Unit: 1614

Claims 15 and 89-90 are presented for examination.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 15, 89 and 90 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Hubbard et al. Hubbard et al. Teach the administration of methylphenidate is widely used to treat children with ADD (page 944) and that in this study all children administered 20 mg of MPH. The curve presenting patient profile 2 teaches an ascending sustained plasma concentration of up to 6 hours. Such ascending plasma concentration is an indicative of ascending methylphenidate release .

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 88 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicant's invention is drawn to a method of treating ADD or ADHD in a patient, wherein the method comprises administering a pharmaceutical acceptable composition of 100 ng to 500 mg of methylphenidate and a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier to said patient in a manner that provides the release of methylphenidate at an ascending release rate over an extended period of time. However the claimed concentration of 100 ng to 500 mg is not within the instant specification.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 15 and 88-90 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 37 and 46-50 of copending Application No. 09/802,709. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are both claiming a method for treating ADD or ADHD comprising administering methylphenidate at an ascending release rate. The dosage form and the time periods are equally covered.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
